REPUBLICANS

Official National Estimates Practically Give Up State.

EVEN CHANCE IS

CLAIMED IN UTAH

Hanna Begins Era of Extravagant Statements.

(Special to The Herald.) Chicago, Oct. 14.—The corruption fund has been raised and the Republican national organization has adopted a more cheerful tone. It has entered on the era of extravagant claims.

The organization is as complete as it can be made with the funds at Chairman Hanna's command. No more money can be raised by scaring Republican business men and the sole purpose of the Republican organization now is to arouse the party workers. Beginning tomorrow the prolific Republican press bureau will begin to flood the country with optimistic campaign claims. Every visitor who came to headquarters with a cheerful story has been interviewed and care taken to get the expressions before the public. Sen-ator Hanna and Vice Chairman Payne have joined the chorus

"I confess that I was alarmed some weeks ago, but I now feel confident;" says Hanna

"Up to this time I have been unwilling to talk about majorities, but the fight is won," says Payne.

Concedes Idaho and Colorado. Tonight he gave out his forecast of the election. In it he conceded the prospects greatly favored Democratic success in Idaho and Colorado, but claimed an even chance in Utah and Nevada. Payne made an estimate of the votes by states, and in doing so divided the states into four classestwenty-four states, having 270 votes, certain for McKinley; twelve states, having 115 electoral votes, certain for Bryan; six states, having thirty-eight electoral votes, in which the chances of Republican or Democratic success are even, and three states, having twenty-four votes, in which the chances are sixty to forty in favor of the Democrats.

The forecast is based upon the latest reports received from all the states, and is as follows:

For McKinley.
